FAQ

<https://2020.indycloudconf.com>

Can I sponsor a talk?

No. Sponsors' employees and clients are welcome to submit speaking proposals for consideration but are not guaranteed to be selected.

Can I commit to a sponsorship but pay closer to the conference?

Yes. However, we will not list your organization on the website or in any marketing materials until the sponsorship fees are paid in full. Sponsorships are first-come, first-serve based on when payment is received, so we will not guarantee availability.

Can I get a list of attendee information?

No. Although sponsor logos and information will be included in marketing emails, we will not send out emails on behalf of sponsors. We will not share any contact information about attendees.

Who should staff our booth?

We encourage you to send team members based on your goal for this event. If you want to recruit, we suggest sending engineers or tech leads to talk about open positions. If you are looking to talk about a project, send a sales rep or tech marketing member. We encourage you to actively participate in discussions in the hallway track, over lunch, or in between sessions. You are welcome to bring a fishbowl or collect attendee information on your own at the booth.

Can I hand out swag?

Absolutely! Swag is a great hook to get people to come by your booth and is highly encouraged.

Do we get lead scanners?

At this time, we are unable to provide lead scanner software to sponsors.

Count us in! What's next?

Please fill out page 7 of the sponsorship prospectus and email it to: info@indyaws.org. Please pay for the sponsorship at: bit.ly/ICCSponsor. Your sponsorship benefits will not begin until payment is received. In addition to payment, please send us your company logo (hi-res, preferably an .eps or .ai file), URL/landing page, and 200 character blurb about your company. Please send your handles for Facebook and Twitter.

What are the logistics?

Approximately a month before the event, you will receive information about: dates, times, shipping, tickets (if applicable), venue logistics, etc. If you need information sooner, please email info@indyaws.org for details.
